

If a birthday card is great... a birthday book is even better!

In 2019, Reedsport is turning 100, and “The Centennial Celebration Planning Committee” is putting together a book for the big event.

“Reedsport at 100” (working title) is going to be filled with memories, predictions, photos, thoughts, and feelings from current and past residents; basically, whatever we can squeeze into 100 pages that will become a fitting keepsake of our rich history; however, we need your help! If you have a short story (100 words or less) about Reedsport (your own or Aunt Mabel’s), thoughts about the city’s future, family photos, a poem about growing up here, or really anything we can put on a printed page, then we would love to include it in “Reedsport at 100” (working title). You can even suggest a better title!

So, print this page, fill in the blanks, write a few lines (or attach something you’ve written or printed), include photos (put your name and address on the back so we can return them!) and drop it off with Emily Bradley at Reedsport City Hall or email it to mainstreet@cityofreedsport.org. Don’t forget to sign it, so we know we have your permission to include your contributions in “Reedsport at 100”. Once we have your submission, follow us on Facebook ‘Reedsport Main Street Program’ to check our progress.
